The following year, Lionel became Lionel Trains, Inc. and the Modern Era was born. The first steam engines made by LTI closely resembled the later MPC engines, but over time new designs took hold, and eventually these Postwar-style Hudsons and Berkshires became a memory.

Lionel imported the GS4 in 1975, ... If you really want a GS-4, however, it may be better to hope and pray that a modern high quality model will be produced, or spend the big bucks and buy brass - several good ones were imported in the past. The Westside model, for example, had good reviews back in the day.
